

Confidentiality & NDA Framework

PrimeLink Global | Governance Framework | Version 1.0

Purpose

Defines PrimeLink Global principles for confidential treatment, information sharing, non-circumvention and NDA usage.

Confidential Information

- Business plans, corporate strategies, investor requirements, capital availability, deal structures, opportunity materials, client information, contact details and commercial terms.

Permission-Based Sharing

- PrimeLink does not share confidential documents, investor identities, private contact details or opportunity information without authorization.

Restricted Use

- Information received through PrimeLink should be used only for evaluating the relevant business opportunity or introduction.

NDA Requirement

- For sensitive opportunities, PrimeLink may recommend or require a Mutual NDA before detailed information is exchanged.

Non-Circumvention Principle

- Where written agreements exist, parties should not intentionally circumvent PrimeLink or agreed referral arrangements.

Independent Responsibility

- Each participant remains responsible for independent legal, financial, tax, commercial and investment due diligence.

Important Notice: This document is a business framework template. It does not constitute legal, tax, financial or investment advice. Parties should obtain independent professional advice before relying on or executing any agreement.
